

Daily Blog

Category: Ricky

Published: Friday, 12 January 2007 00:30

Phantastic Phabric

A student recently told me that she got in trouble by her husband because her fabric stash had grown out of control and it just had to stop. She told him, "Now Honey, I've got a new guild position. I'm the keeper of the guild's fabric." Yeah, right! - But fast thinking. Anyone else with a story like that?

I felt we needed our own 'club' fabric so I designed a large novelty print with our Blue TV and logo. The other is a bit disty and fun with our QS and star. There will be a light and dark version of each. Thanks to Red Rooster Fabrics these will be available in the spring. Yeah!!

