Lights, Camera, Action!

I'm just finishing up lunch waiting for everyone to come back and I thought you might like an update. The first show was smooth sailing without a hiccup at all! Well, okay, nothing is perfect, but when you finish up an hour early, you know it went well - Wow! - Just as we had hoped, the added dynamic of having an audience is electric.

Here is a photo of our GOBO - a light sencil - that appears on one wall at times. Who knows when we can post another blog - but stay tuned!
