

Daily Blog

Category: Ricky

Published: Wednesday, 25 April 2007 07:09

The Stars are Out!

Last night, Quilt Show Stars (our World Quilt Community Members) came into our booth proclaiming - "It's a New Day!" The first to arrive was DLQuilter from Mississippi. She was wearing her newly made badge and as the first to arrive at our booth was awarded our new Quilt Show Pin. She had found just the right colors for her badge from a piece of Ricky Tims Original Hand-dyed fabric. Her friends thought she was crazy to have done so and she actually brought the fabric to show me. See the holes? Now that's commitment.

By the way, we'll be putting the pins in the Quilt Show Store soon so you can have one, too. Most likely it will be after Spring Market, in Mid May. We'll keep you posted.