

Daily Blog

Category: Breaking News

Published: Tuesday, 09 January 2007 19:00

Mini-Quilts Auction for Alzheimer's Research

Quilter Ami Simms has a wonderful ongoing fund-raiser for Alzheimer's research. Periodic auctions help raise the funds. For the current auction. You've got just a few hours left to bid on 24 exceptional little quilts at www.AlzQuilts.org . And they are little. None are over 9 inches by 12 inches. They're called Priority: Alzheimer's Quilts for the urgent need of research funding and because if you're the lucky winner your quilt will be mailed to you in a USPS cardboard priority mailer. Get your bid in by noon on Wednesday, January 10th.

Just a selection of the fun quilts available for a worthwhile cause.