Morning in La Veta

Capt'n John--I love to see new places early in the morning. Alex needs to rest, so I wandered off to welcome the day.

The crew is all here and ready to go. Keep your eyes on the blog for pictures and videos as we move forward with the taping.

Also, remember to click the "Slideshows" on the purple bar to see Gregory Case's views of La Veta from past tapings. He even has a camera that you don't throw away after 24 shots!
