Getting Ready for the Taping in La Veta

Alex is back in her office. Please, do not touch her wooden box of tools! I guarantee that even Simon Cowell would be embarrassed by her critique.

So where am I working? In the sorting room, where we organize all the items the artists need to have for the show.

Lots of great ideas, tools and books. We'll keep you posted. I hope to give you a short tour of the town in the next couple of days. Back to sorting.
