

Daily Blog

Category: Breaking News

Published: Monday, 21 July 2014 08:03

Episode 1502: Small Pieces, Big Impact

Photo by Gregory Calk Photography

In Episode 1502, Canadian quilter, teacher, and author Mary Elizabeth Kinch drops by the studio to share her love for antique quilts and how she recreates them full-size with tiny pieces and reproduction fabrics. Mary Elizabeth, founder of the SPA (Small Piece Aficionado) Society, demonstrates how to tame those tiny pieces from template stage to finished block, incorporating lots of fabric and hand-piecing tips along the way.

Then Alex travels to Washington County, Oregon, for a chat with textile artist Terry Grant, in which we get a glimpse at Terry's latest art quilts . . . featuring "upcycled" men's shirts!

Watch the Show