Every so often an opportunity comes along that is just too good to miss; and we wanted to be sure to share it with you.

For the first time ever, Paula Nadelstern is offering a limited edition of signed Giclee fine art prints featuring the twelve signed kaleidoscopic patchwork blocks created for her American Folk Art Museum exhibition (as seen in Episode 508). These stunningly gorgeous prints, produced on Daguerre canvas, measure at the original twenty-inch square size plus a two inch black border, and are suitable for framing or stretching. Each of the signed and numbered prints have all of the tonalities and hues of the original fabric blocks. Limited to 100 of each design, they can truly be considered collector's items. Order your own piece of fine art here. Better hurry, though! We know that they will sell out quickly.
