Wide Mouth Zipper Pouches

Take two fabric lines (Tomodachi & Daydream from P&B Textiles), three zippers, and a bit of interfacing. What do you get? Three adorable wide mouthed zipper pouches sure to create a little stir at your next quilter’s gathering.

We spotted the pattern for these adorable pouches [here at noodle-head.com] and just had to try them out for ourselves with these fun fabric lines. These pouches can be made in a variety of sizes to hold any number of items from makeup, pencils, to sewing accessories. These little babies are so easy to stitch up we know that you will have a hard time making just one!
