

Daily Blog

Category: Tutorials

Published: Wednesday, 30 April 2014 05:08

Tip of the Week: Squaring up Your Quilt

Even Alex is tired of the hassle involved with squaring up a quilt. Well . . . things are about to get easier! Just try this super-clever method using a tool readily available from your neighborhood hardware store.

Michelle of quiltstator uses laser levels and square rulers on a tabletop after washing and blocking her quilts. She says "It pays to have a couple of large trestle tables to work on if you can't crawl around the floor." We think Alex might have a trip to the hardware store looming in her near future.

